INSIDER'S GUIDE TO LONG ISLAND CITY, QUEENS

1 of 10

Queens artist Chie Shimizu has had her Long Island City studio for three and a half years, where she sculpts diminutive figures that have captured the eyes of many in the art world. Shimizu's works have been displayed in New York and Tokyo, and she was part of the LIC Arts Festival. Shimizu loves her neighborhood's friendly community spirit. Even the bus ride from her Astoria home to her studio (43-01 21st St., at 43rd Ave.) is a joy. "The driver always remembers my name, and it's almost always on time," she says with a smile.
